Thermwise Insulation Rates

Dear Public Service Commissioners,

My name is Matthew Robison. I own a company called Huckleberry Homes. I have a company that employees 16 men who have been laid off. We focus entirely on helping people upgrade their energy efficiency on their homes. We charge $.35 for these customers to receive the insulation. Because of our entrepreneurial minds, we have created a system that allows all to take advantage of this program. Almost 100% of the people we service, would not have done this without our program. Due to the economic situation, most of these customers can not afford to take part in the Thermwise Program. The people who need it most, are those who cannot afford it. This program is a great program. It employees thousands. If the insulation rates are lowered, I fear most of these workers will once again be laid off. Please take into consideration these thousands of employees that will be affected by this change. These jobs are in your hands.

Sincerely,

Matthew Robison
